

LOVE

FOREVER

Ten Little Rules for Love

1

Don't play games with people's feelings, and never make fun of the way others show their love.

2

Remember: "You become responsible, forever, for what you have tamed." (Antoine de Saint-Exupéry, The Little Prince).

3

Don't let the way you've been treated become the measure for how you treat others.

4

Be okay with letting your guard down and allow the other to do the same.

5

Don't shut down if you've been hurt before; don't pull back if you've been rejected before. Give trust another chance.

6

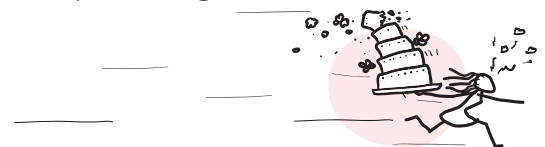

Avoid sex without love (and without marriage) at all costs.

7

Give more than you hope to get back and you will get back more than you can give.

8

The more fully you commit yourself, the freer you are.

9

Stay true to your spouse even during dry spells. Love is worth it.

10

Keep moving forward. Don't look back. The best is yet to come.

REFLECT

Take a look at the "Ten Little Rules". Which is most relevant to your life right now? Which one do you find difficult to relate to or difficult to follow?